Loss to Cattlemen

"April in Paris" is worth seeing the Saenger as an outstanding example of film musical comedy. This is pretty short notice as the picture closes tonight (Thursday) but from the size of the crowd which saw the opening Wednesday a lot of people must have known in advance about this top-notch show.

It owes much to Ray Bolger, Broadway's great dancer and comic, who Bolger doesn't make many films, but every one does make is perfect. Association with him helps Doris Day turn in the best performance of her career. And there is a witty Frenchman, Claude Dauphin, who helps spread international good will as well as wise-cracks.

The lines crackle all the way through the film with the stinging accuracy of a Broadway show. For instance, Bolger, assistant secretary to the assistant secretary to the Undersecretary of State, is in a jam because he has sent an important European appointment by mistake to a New York chorus girl.

"The Department of Justice might investigate us," says Bolger, "which would be bad. Very bad. Because we're investigating the Department of Justice."

One of the tragedies of this May is the reported heavy loss sustained by local cattlemen.

We heard this morning that Mr. Martin of the M. & M. ranch, on Town creek, between Hope and Washington, found 22 dead cattle drowned out of a herd of 321. There may be more, but he had located 22 bodies.

Another, unidentified, cattleman is reported to have lost 15 head.

And County Farm Agent Oliver L. Adams told me just before noon about the experience of Buster Gilbert, Washington Route One, whose farm lies northeast of Fulton on Sandy Bois d'Arc creek. Mr. Gilbert had 37 calves of winter and spring grazing on a pasture where the previous high water covered the field only one foot deep.

Gilbert checked his calves at 11 a. m. Monday and the creek was still within its banks. But when he went back to the field at 2 p. m. it was 4 feet under water—and 11 of his calves were missing. He found 11 bodies. They represented $50 apiece at the market.

Levee Breaks, SPG Lake Is Drained

The best fishing in Arkansas this week has been on the O. Harris lake in the Proving Ground, according to reports trickling in from residents of the area.

However, the fishing has been unique in that all were caught by hand in fields near the lake.

Heavy rains bringing excessive water caused the 49-acre lake, built during the Proving Ground days for testing bombs, to overflow and on Tuesday about 75 feet of the dam went out and completely drained the lake.

Residents of the area caught hundreds of fish of various size filling tubs and sacks with 7 to 8 pound bass and 2 to 4 pound white perch—many taking home from 50 to 100 pounds. However, most of the fish went with the water to nearby creeks.

The 33-foot-deep lake was completely drained and only a mere trickle of water flows through the center. One estimate said it would cost between $700 and $1,000 to repair the dam and refill the lake.

Orders Check Into Bell Figures

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Arkansas Public Service Commission attorney yesterday ordered a "further check" of the figures given by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in its request for a rate increase.

"A further analysis and check is in order so that the Commission may be presented a complete and unbiased story," said Attorney U. A. Gentry as he completed cross-examining Bell witnesses before the PSC.

Ambassador to Belgium Picked

WASHINGTON (UP) — Frederick M. Alger, Jr., unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor of Michigan last fall, was nominated today by President Eisenhower to be ambassador to Belgium.

Alger, 48, was nominated to succeed Myron C. Cowan, whose resignation is being accepted.

Alger, who was defeated by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, was secretary of state in Michigan from 1948 to 1952.

Hike in Agri Budget Gets Committee Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today recommended an Agriculture Department budget 1.4 per cent larger than President Eisenhower had asked.

It sent to the House floor for debate next week a bill to appropriate $712,308,328 to finance the department's regular activities for the 1954 fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $37,101,014, or 5 per cent, less than former President Truman asked for in his January budget message. But it is $8,042,066 more than the Eisenhower administration requested in a budget revision submitted by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Most of the increase over Benson's requests was earmarked for establishment of 50 small pilot plant watersheds to determine the future course to be followed on upstream watershed protection.

The Agriculture Department now operates 11 major watershed projects. The Truman budget contemplated adding seven more. The committee recommended seven million dollars for flood prevention, providing for continuance of work on the 11 existing projects but nothing for the new ones requested by Truman. An additional five millions was earmarked for the pilot plants.

In addition to the new cash for regular activities of the department, the bill would authorize loans of 347½ million dollars by the Rural Electrification Administration and the farmers home administration. This is 17½ millions less than Truman requested, but 45½ millions more than Benson asked. All these loans are repayable.

Another, unidentified, cattleman is reported to have lost 15 head. And County Farm Agent Oliver L. Adams told me just before noon about the experience of Buster Gilbert, Washington Route One, whose farm lies northeast of Fulton on Sandy Bois d'Arc creek. Mr. Gilbert had 37 calves of winter and spring grazing on a pasture where the previous high water covered the field only one foot deep.

TB Remains Potent as Man Killer

The war against tuberculosis is bringing results and in the last 40 years the disease has moved from first to eighth place as man's chief killer.

Yet TB kills more people from 15 to 35 years of age than any other disease. Everyone owes it to himself and family to learn the facts about the disease and take a few simple precautions.

Tuberculosis is catching and is spread by persons having the disease. Anyone with the disease spreads it when they cough, sneeze, spit, or through the things he handles or uses.

TB germs can be picked up by breathing in germ-laden droplets of moisture which are sprayed into the air when a sufferer coughs or sneezes without covering his mouth; by kissing a TB patient.

By using anything which a patient has handled or which he has come in contact with such as dishes, silver, drinking glasses, bed linen and other objects; by breathing dust containing the germs; by drinking unpasteurized milk and cows that have TB can give people the disease.

Be sure you are free of the germ by taking a chest X-ray at the county courthouse Thursday and Friday of this week without cost.

Graduation Plans at Spring Hill Are Announced

Superintendent John H. Houck Jr. announces the following schedule of events to take place during the closing of Spring Hill Schools.

The seniors under the sponsorship of Principal and Mrs. L. F. Stalton will make a trip to Petit Jean State Park, and will visit the Capitol at Little Rock.

Mrs. Charles F. Batson will direct the music department in a musical program for the PTA meeting on May 12.

On Sunday, May 17, the Baccalaureate will be held in the school gymnasium at 2:30 p. m. The speaker for this occasion will be Rev. Harold Austin of Murfreesboro. The graduation exercises will be held on May 19 at 7:30 p. m. in the school gymnasium. The speaker for the graduation exercises will be Dr. Dolph Camp, President of Southern State College at Magnolia.

Texarkanian Named City Park Director

It was announced today by the City Parks and Recreation Commission that Kelsey Moore, graduate of Stephen F. Austin College, Nacogdoches, Texas, has been selected as the Director of Parks and Recreation for the City of Hope. The selection was made by the Commission from a group of about 12 applicants.

Mr. Moore is a native of Texarkana, Texas, was born Nov. 16, 1930. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harley Moore of Texarkana.

Kelsey Moore

An outstanding athlete and honor student, Mr. Moore graduated in 1948 from Texarkana Texas high school. During his high school days he earned athletic letters in baseball and basketball, and won all-district honors in basketball. From high school he entered Texarkana Junior College in 1948. There he also starred in these two sports as well as in the class room. In 1949 he led the Eastern zone of Texas Junior College basketball conference in scoring.

After completing his Junior College training, he transferred in 1950 to Stephen F. Austin State College, Nacogdoches, Texas. At SFA he played baseball and basketball under Glen Rose. In intercollegiate athletics he was outstanding in baseball, basketball, tennis, track and volleyball.

Mr. Moore took the Bachelor of Science degree in health, physical education and recreation in 1952 at SFA. He ranked high in the graduating class, an accomplishment which earned him election to the Alpha Chi national scholarship society. In May, 1953, he took the Master of Education degree in Administrative education at SFA. While working on his advanced degree he served as assistant director of public relation and as sport publicity director.

While attending college, he was employed for three consecutive summers — 1948, 1949, 1950 — by the Recreation Dept., of Texarkana Texas and in 1950 managed the VFW softball team that finished second in the National tourney.

A member of the Methodist Church, Mr. Moore has been active in Wesley Foundation work at SFA as well as in his home church in Texarkana.

Mr. Moore will come to Hope on May 21, to take up his residence and begin his work. The Commission feels it is fortunate in having Mr. Moore as its first director, and ask all people of the city to join in toward making the program a success.

Public Changes Tax Attitude, Lawyers Told

BY LEON HATCH
HOT SPRINGS (AP) — An Indianapolis lawyer and tax consultant told the Arkansas Bar Association today that "there has come about a tremendous change in the public attitude toward tax manipulations."

Merle H. Miller spoke at a luncheon as the 35th annual convention of Arkansas lawyers got underway on a two-day run.

Miller said that "the linking of morality with our tax laws is something new in this country."

"The people who used the tax on fear as the spark to ignite a revolution and who had included in their Constitution a prohibition against any direct tax by their federal government were not likely to discuss morality and taxes in the same breath."

"The tax collector was an intruder and if you could escape his clutches, you were in the same fortunate position as someone who had escaped smallpox or diphtheria."

"It was only natural that the courts would reflect the public attitude of the time and declare that the burden of proving a citizen's

ROKs Smash 400 Chinese Along Front

By MILO FARNETI
SEOUL (AP) — Sharpshooting South Korean infantrymen killed or wounded at least 400 Communists in a series of savage close-quarter battles across the 155-mile battle front today.

In the air, U. S. Sabre jets destroyed three Communist MIGs and shot up two more, while almost 100 Sabres and other fighterbombers plastered supply targets deep in North Korea and along the front lines.

The Eighth Army said stubborn South Korean troops chopped up a reinforced Chinese company which hit Allied positions north of Kunhwa in Central Korea before dawn. The ROKs killed or wounded 216 Chinese in an attacking force which struck behind a 3,000-pound artillery and mortar barrage, the Army said.

Fifteen miles to the east, Chinese troops struck a series of Allied outposts in the Outpost Texas Capital Hill sector for the third straight day. The Reds lost 107 men to South Korean fire before pulling back to their own lines shortly before dawn, the Army said.

On the eastern end of the battle line, South Korean raiders reported killing or wounding 27 Communists in a 90-minute hand-to-hand clash near the Nam River.

Waco Death Toll Climbs to 104

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Cold, drizzling rain fell on search parties who worked all night probing for more ruins that defiled downtown Waco. At dawn the known death toll stood at 104.

Four more bodies had been found since midnight. There still was wreckage to be searched.

Gets $70,000 for Loss of Wrong Leg

CHICAGO (UP) — A 65-year-old janitor, who sued a Chicago hospital for $1,300,000 for amputating the wrong leg, collected $70,000 yesterday in an out of court settlement.

Gus Tewes sued 67 doctors, nurses, and other hospital personnel because he said they amputated his right leg at the thigh by mistake. He later had to have his other leg amputated at another hospital.

Tewes first was injured when his foot was crushed by a bar. A gangrene set in and his left leg was amputated.

Hospital records erred in listing the operation as an amputation of the right leg and when further infection made another amputation necessary his right leg was removed.

11 Calves Drown on Gilbert Farm

Eleven of 37 young calves owned by Buster Gilbert of Washington, R. I. drowned in a flash flood early this week. It was reported here today. Gilbert was reported to have checked the calves earlier in the day but the water rose over four feet in a few hours. He used a boat to save 26 of them.

Chinese Reject UN Peace Plan, Hurl Charges

By ROBERT VERMILLION
PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — The Communists turned down the Allies' 26-point war prisoner plan today, provoking a United Nations charge that the "master" behind Red negotiations deliberately was delaying a truce in Korea.

As the negotiations slipped back into a complete deadlock, Communist troops started tearing down the tent city "used last month for the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners."

The Communists flatly rejected the new U. N. proposal for disposing of prisoners who do not want to go home and the Allies repeated they would not accept the Reds' plan.

"We absolutely reject it," North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, told Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, head of the U. N. delegation, at a meeting lasting one-hour and 34 minutes.

Nam said the U. N. formula, approved by Washington as a counter-proposal to an eight-point plan submitted by the Communists a week ago today, was "absolutely unacceptable."

Harrison said the Reds' proposal to decide final disposition of prisoners refusing repatriation at a post-armistice political conference, was "unacceptable" and "could" no more reach an agreement we could honorably accept than can these delegations up to this time."

"The faces and voices would change but the master behind them would not change," Harrison said. The two sides agreed to meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (10 p. m. Thursday EDT).

"As it stands now, their May 7 proposal is completely unsatisfactory to us and they said ours of yesterday is completely unsatisfactory to them," Harrison said.

Nam went further than simply rejecting the Allied formula which would free all Korean prisoners now or immediately after the armistice is signed and turn over to a neutral custodian for a period of explanation only those Chinese prisoners who refuse to go home.

T. P. Boyett, 54, Former Hope Resident, Dies

T. P. Boyett, aged 54, a native of Hope, died unexpectedly early Thursday at his home in Texarkana.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Faye Boyett, two brothers, Comer Boyett of Hope and Rufin Boyett of Little Rock, and a sister, Mrs. T. D. Smith.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at Hendon Cornelius Chapel by the Rev. C. C. Isher of Texarkana. Burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

British Sneer at McCarthy Demands

LONDON (UP) — British news papers today published prominently the demands of Sen. Joseph McCarthy that Britain apologize for a speech made in the House of Commons by former Laborite Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

The foreign office declined comment and Attlee himself said nothing. Some Britons were amused by McCarthy's attack on "communist" Attlee. Some were angered by his invasion of the British political scene.

They said that Attlee, when he was prime minister, backed the U. S. policy in Korea and has consistently fought anti-Americanism among his own party's left-wing extremists.

The McCarthy attack on Attlee was the leading story in today's editions of Lord Beaverbrook's Conservative Evening Standard and one of the top stories in the Conservative Evening News. Both not that McCarthy took no note of Attlee's remarks that "on wonders whether President Eisenhower or Sen. McCarthy wields greater power in U. S. foreign policy."

The Daily News told its readers that the average American doesn't like McCarthy's methods but believes communism must be fought. The Daily Herald seized on the occasion to criticize what it called the "nauseating" tactics of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Senator McCarthy's reaction to the Attlee speech was nauseatingly typical. He tried to smear Mr. Attlee as a Communist, recalling that he gave the "clenched fist" sign to the Spanish Republican troops whom he reviewed during the Spanish civil war. That was their regulation salute, whether they were Socialists, Liberals, Anarchists, or Communists."

Urges Ike to Speak Out for Firm Policy

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) today urged President Eisenhower to "speak out now" in an effort to win British support for a firm policy toward the Communists in Korea and elsewhere in Asia.

He made the suggestion in an interview at a time of increasingly bitter transatlantic gibes between lawmakers of the two long-time allies.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) yesterday denounced as a "Munich" ap peasement inviting World War III proposals by Prime Minister Churchill and Clement Attlee, Laborites.

Rain Cripples Cotton Carnival

MEMPHIS (AP) — The weather has kept a damper on the 1953 Cotton Carnival.

The rain held off last night for the landing of the Royal Barge braved with fireworks, tinsel and lights — but the damp night air was chilly.

Drum majorettes and other lightly clad beauties who pranced or rode in the "Great Cotton Parade" raised a mighty crop of goose pimples. Threatening skies thinned the crowds that lined the gates from the University of Texas.

No Objection But Wants Acts From Others

WASHINGTON (AP) President Eisenhower said today he has no objection to a conference of top leaders of the major powers, but that he would first like to see some evidence of good faith from the Soviet Union.

As yet, he declared he has seen no evidence of good faith on the part of the Russians in their talk of wanting world peace.

Eisenhower's news conference remarks were in reply to a request for comment on Prime Minister Winston Churchill's speech earlier this week urging a high level conference without "great delay."

Eisenhower also declared: "I have met no one in the United States who does not want peace. The President permitted a quotation of that remark, made partly to a request for comment, statements by Clement Attlee, former British Prime Minister."

Attlee said in the House of Commons Tuesday that the Eisenhower administration's hands were tied in seeking peace in Korea by "elements in the U. S. who do not want a settlement."

As for Churchill's call for a conference of the leaders of the major parties, the President noted

U. S.-British Split Not Wide, Says Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he does not think the rift between Britain and America over feelings with Russia and policy in Korea is as wide as it might appear.

He commented at a news conference on remarks by Prime Minister Churchill and Clement Attlee, Labor party leader, in House of Commons debate with special reference to Attlee's assertion that some elements in American oppose a Korean peace.

He emphasized that point by permitting direct quotation of this portion of what he said: "I have met no one in America who does not want peace."

At the same time, reacting to Churchill's proposal for another meeting of top-level spokesmen for world powers, Eisenhower repeated that he personally would do anything that gives some promise of producing progress toward peace.

He said, however, he has seen no concrete evidence that Russia is willing to take steps toward peace. Before the White House news conference Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) had urged Eisenhower to "speak out now" in an effort to win British support for a firm policy toward the Communists in Korea and other parts of Asia.

The President's views were stated in response to a series of questions from reporters.

In regard to Attlee's statement he said he does not criticize individuals as such, or their opinions, and set himself up as the all-wise judge that knows the motives behind what they say. But he added that he would say he has met no one in this country who doesn't want peace.

Visions Risk in Balancing the Budget

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Now you see it, now you don't, the balanced budget. At the moment there's a little confusion. No one has contributed to it more than Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Around Washington Humphrey is credited with being one of the smartest and most honest members of President Eisenhower's Cabinet. Last Friday he went before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Later the committee chairman, Sen. Wiley, Wisconsin Republican, had newsmen Humphrey had informed the committee.

"Although I am distressed that we cannot balance the budget this year (fiscal 1954), I do not believe it should be balanced. The risks that would involve are too great."

And Wiley quoted Humphrey further:

"There is no prospect at all for anything but an increase in the national debt at the present moment. We have not been able to make the reductions I personally hoped to make."

"The reason for Humphrey's 'distress' in giving such views was obvious enough: The entire Eisenhower administration is self-conscious about the problem of balancing the budget, which might mean a tax cut for everyone."

During the campaign the Republicans made it a main issue, complaining what they called the Truman administration's "wasteful spending."

They minimized economy if they got in and talked of balancing the budget.

And they have tried hard, during their almost four months in office, to find ways of reducing government expenses to the point where they did not exceed government income, thus achieving the budget balance.

The day after Humphrey's statement, Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Republican Senate leader, said he was "very much disappointed" with the spending outlook for fiscal 1954, starting July 1.

He predicted Eisenhower's first budget year will show a deficit of 9 to 11 billion dollars "unless changes are made."

But if Humphrey was "disappointed" and Taft "disappointed" by the outlook for fiscal 1954, at least one Republican was made happy by Humphrey's statement.

This was Rep. Daniel A. Reed, New York Republican and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles the problems of taxation and cutting taxes.

Five months after the inauguration, however, administration tried to hold him back until it had a chance to see how much spending it could cut.

"I am amazed," said Reed, "to see the white flag run up down town. They seem to be surrendering to the sponsors. They'll never balance the budget until they move the chickens from business by reducing taxes."

And then yesterday Secretary Humphrey, so gloomy last Friday, suddenly became optimistic, although nothing has happened positively to account for the change in mood.

He told reporters the present mood hopes to get out of a "dark" mood, which has gripped the public of 1953.

Miss Glenna Wade

Honored at Gift Tea

Mrs. Claude D. Lauterbach, Mrs. Guy Watkins, Mrs. George A. Nash, Mrs. Charles G. Graham and Mrs. Martin Pool entertained for the pleasure of Miss Glenna Wade of Quinlan, Texas, bride-elect of William Charles Wilson of Hope, with a gift tea Saturday afternoon, May 9, in the home of Mrs. Lauterbach on South Main.

Mrs. Arch Moore greeted the guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line which included the honoree, Miss Wade, her mother, Mrs. Garnett Wade of Quinlan, Mrs. Reuben Wilson and the hostesses.

Miss Sara Lauterbach then invited the guests into the dining room. The tea table was laid with a white linen heirloom Italian drawn work cloth and centered with silver and crystal candelabras filled with pink roses and sweet peas flanked by glowing pink candles in silver candle stick holders. The buffet held a similar arrangement to that of the table. Mrs. Tom Ed Hays, Mrs. P. L. Perkins, Miss Gwendolyn Dean, and Mrs. Mack Stuart, alternated in serving the cake and pouring the punch. Others assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Byron Helmer and Mrs. Arthur Dale Helmer of Texarkana, Mrs. Mae Duffie and Mrs. Charles Bryant.

A pink and green color scheme prevailed throughout the house in the flower arrangements of daisies, carnations and other flowers. The color scheme was also carried out in the linens and ices.

Miss Mary Anita Laseter presided at the guest book. Mrs. Bob Shaddox of Arkadelphia and Mrs. Pauline Carter were in charge of the gift room.

Luther Hollamon, Jr., provided a background of music throughout the afternoon.

One hundred and fifty guests called during the hours of 2 to 5:30.

Gardenia Garden Club

Meets Wednesday

The Gardenia Garden Club met Wednesday afternoon, May 13, in the home of Mrs. L. P. Higgins with Mrs. Steve Carrigan, Mrs. W. W. Andrews, and Mrs. Leonard Ellis as co-hostesses.

The president, Mrs. C. C. Lewis, presided over the business session. Plans and food assignments were made for the picnic to be held June 3 at Fair Park sponsored by the City Federation of Garden Clubs. Details of the state convention of the Arkansas Federation of Garden Clubs to be held May 29-30 in Conway were announced.

Mrs. Steve Carrigan was in charge of the program and gave an interesting talk on "Flower Arranging." At the close of the meeting the hostesses served a dessert plate to 17 members.

Miss Billie Cromer

Feted With Shower

Miss Billie Jean Cromer, bride-elect of Lt. Jack L. Burke, was feted with a miscellaneous shower given Friday, May 8, in the Evans Home Ec Cottage by Mrs. Dale Bonds and Mrs. Raymon Hemen.

Spring flowers were used throughout the cottage. A corsage of pink roses and sweet peas was presented to the honoree. Similar corsages were presented to Mrs. Jack Cromer, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. John Burke, mother of Lt. Burke.

that the State Department suggested yesterday such a conference should await proof of the Soviet Union's sincerity in talking about peace.

Eisenhower said the department's statement was issued with his approval.

Then he went on to say he has seen no evidence of such faith.

The President recently said he was willing to accept Soviet peace overtures at face value.

His statement today that there has been no evidence of good faith on the part of the Russians seems to indicate a bit of impatience.

The President said emphatically, however, that he was willing to take almost any kind of a chance to promote peace in the world.

On other matters, Eisenhower emphasized that his appointment of a new military high command in no way implies any criticism of the men who are being replaced on the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The President said Secretary of Defense Wilson felt he should have an entirely new team, and that he agreed with Wilson.

2. Endorsed a proposal in Congress to raise the pay of senators and House members by $10,000 a year. Eisenhower said the time is approaching, with taxes as they are, when it will be difficult to find well qualified men to bid for jobs in Congress. And, he said, the people should have the best possible men in Congress whether they have a nickel or a lot of money.

3. Said he believes there should be maximum local interest in development of such power projects as the one at Hells Canyon in Idaho. This was in reply to a question as to whether he favored development by the federal government or the Idaho Power company. Secretary of the Interior McKay announced recently his department had no objection to private construction of the power development. In the Truman administration, the Interior Department objected.

4. Said he feels that legislation to grant statehood to Hawaii should be handled separately and not combined with the Alaska statehood measure as a Senate committee voted earlier this week to do. The move to combine the bills was sponsored by Democrats and some congressional Republicans contend it was motivated by politics.

Eisenhower said Hawaii's economy is on a self-supporting basis and that its record during World War II proved its right to statehood.

liability to his government was upon the government and that the citizen was free to use any sort of device to avoid the tax so long as he stayed literally within the letter of the statute.

Miller said that when his situation was true "taxes were mere nuisances and a citizen who was able to dodge a tax was not thereby given a considerable advantage over his neighbor."

Now, he said, "taxes are too great a part of our business life to be treated so lightly," and the attitude of public, Congress and the courts had changed.

He commented that nowadays a taxpayer who evades a tax "will wind up with as great a competitive advantage over his neighbor as if he had cheated the neighbor directly out of a considerable sum."

Despite Congressional plugging of loopholes and an aroused public opinion against tax dodging, it really is the courts, Miller said, who supply "a conscience for those taxpayers whose sensibilities have become hardened through non-use."

He said tax evaders no longer could rely on technicalities to exonerate them in their difficulties with the courts.

Miller advised a lawyer or tax counselor "not to hesitate to condemn a tax plan merely on the ground that it offends his own sensibilities."

President to Make Radio Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower disclosed today he will make a radio report to the nation next Tuesday night on the interrelated problems of national security, the budget and expenditures.

The President also told his news conference he probably will go on television a week or so later to report to the country what has happened to date in his administration, the purposes that have guided it, and its accomplishments so far.

for party leader. Knowland particularly objected to any truce which would leave Korea divided and lead to admission of Red China into the United Nations.

Backing this up, Ferguson said the President should make a public statement "that shows our policies do not coincide with those of Churchill and Attlee."

"An early statement on our stand by the President would be of great benefit," the Michigan senator said. "Churchill and Attlee have been advertising to the world where Britain is going to stand in the Korean peace negotiations — if there is a cease-fire — and I am fearful this will discourage our allies in their efforts to resist communism."

"But I still hope we can be reunited with Britain and our other allies in a firm stand against the expansion of communism and the President is the man to do it."

Although Knowland and Ferguson led the attack on British views as Republican members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, they were not without some Democratic support.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) top Democrat on the armed services committee, said in a separate interview he believes U. N. negotiators already have "yielded too much" to the Communists in Korean truce talks.

He alluded to the U. N. offer to transfer to a five-nation commission custody of Chinese Communist prisoners who don't want to go home. The U. N. proposal was rejected by the Communists.

"I regret to see the softened policy in Korea," Russell said. "I am not in favor of the Churchill and Attlee policies, although I assume there was a great deal in their speeches which was designed for home consumption."

The State Department late yesterday threw a little cold water on Churchill's suggestion Monday for a meeting of Western and Russian leaders.

The suggestion was "a further manifestation of his (Churchill's) own high purpose," the department said, but it stressed that before any such talks, there must be concrete evidence of Soviet good faith.

The statement said agreement on a truce in Korea and an Austrian peace treaty would demonstrate such sincerity and would "help to pave the way toward a high-level conference."

Casualties Continue Increase

WASHINGTON, AP—An official battle casualty report for the week ending May 10 shows a total of 14,935, an increase of 134 over last week's tally. The Defense Department reported today.

It was the smallest weekly increase since the report of March 23, 1952, when the total increase was 123.

The overall total now includes 24,010 deaths, 85,953 wounded, 9,019 missing, 2,235 captured and 1,412 previously missing but returned to military control.

The week's increase by services was:
Army: 49 dead, 85 wounded, 17 captured, and reduction of 75 in the missing, leaving a net increase of 119.

Navy: 2 wounded and 3 missing.
Marine Corps: 3 dead, 20 wounded and 5 missing.
Air Force: 3 missing.

The casualties include those reported from the beginning of the Korean war through last Friday. There is a one to three week time lag in making casualty reports, so it does not include all casualties but returned to military control through Friday.

The 133 increase includes 107 Army, 5 navy, 20 Marine Corps and 3 Air Force.

Breakdown by services:
Army: 104,583 casualties — 19,358 deaths, 73,744 wounded, 7,500 missing, 2,341 captured, 1,452 previously missing but returned to military control.

Navy: 1,989 casualties — 281 deaths, 1,508 wounded, 92 missing, 8 previously missing but returned to military control.

Marine Corps: 26,933 casualties — 3,360 deaths, 22,738 wounded, 372 missing, 35 previously missing but returned to military control.

which opened here today. Many individual lawyers are opposed to the integration order by the Supreme Court, which would establish a compulsory professional organization to which all attorneys would belong.

The action was recommended by a Bar Association Committee, but Little Rock Lawyer Kenneth Coffelt contends it doesn't have the support of most of the state's 2,000 licensed lawyers.

Five hundred and 92 Arkansas lawyers voted for integration in Court-conducted balloting, 451 against.

Coffelt said he would propose a

Radiation Hits New Mexico

By JULIUS GOLDEN

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)

Prospectors say Western New Mexico is being bombarded with so much radiation from atomic tests that at times it's impossible to test for uranium ore.

Fruit growers in Northwestern New Mexico are blaming frosts on atomic tests in Nevada.

Residents in one area think a wave of lightheadedness and nausea may have been caused by radio activity. Atomic Energy Commission officials discount all the complaints. Prospectors in the Gallup, N. M., area, where uranium hunting has reached the proportions of an industry, have been unable to turn the precious ore at times following tests.

Visiting Around Arkansas

BY JOE MARSH

"FLY GUYS...Jet Propelled"....

There's no event like a good lively current event. Biggest current event in Central Arkansas these days is the purchase of land for Jacksonville's new jet bomber base. Not far from Little Rock's city limits, plans are going ahead to build this Air Force center which will bring thousands of military and civilian personnel to Central Arkansas.

Practically all of Central Arkansas pointed in to have nearly a million dollars to pay for this great project. It just goes to show what progress can be achieved when everybody helps.

Yes, sir, progress is achieved when everybody pitches in. That's why the American "bawling industry" has reached the high level of public acceptance it enjoys today. The brewers and their many employees are always striving to improve their products and business standards. That they have succeeded is shown through public acceptance of the sale of beer in clean, legal and wholesome surroundings.

Farmer Drowns in Swollen Stream

GOULD, Ark.—A farmer attempting to cross a rain-swollen canal drowned when he was swept off his feet by a strong current near here yesterday.

The death of Will Woodall, 52, of Wells Bayou, is the second drowning this week in flooded Arkansas streams.

Sheriff Tribe Coghill said Woodall and his brother, Joe, were walking in hip-deep water over a bridge across the canal when they were pulled into the ditch by the current. Joe Woodall was pulled from the water by a neighbor and Will's body was found some four hours later about 200 feet from the bridge.

Last Monday, a 22-month-old girl drowned when she fell into a flooded irrigation ditch near her home at DeQueen.

MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO 10 May soybeans reported several cents and all wheat contracts jumped more than a cent on the Board of Trade today.

Aggressive short covering developed in May soybeans and the same type of activity, on a much smaller scale, appeared in May wheat. The market also was helped by the apparent stalemate in Korea and prospects of export loss.

Relations With Friend's Wife Is Admitted

LOS ANGELES 10—A young science student, the other man in a teen-age triangle, has told a jury he was intimate on several occasions with the wife of his best friend.

Richard La Force, accused of trying to poison Robert Hayden, testified he and Joyce Hayden, now an expectant mother, were intimate first at his home, then at hers and during auto rides.

La Force and the Haydens, all 19, had been friends since high school days. He claims he took the blame himself to divert suspicion from Joyce when Hayden detected poison in bottles of milk and water at their home.

The college student resumed his testimony yesterday after defense counsel completed reading 26 love letters the 17-year-old girl wrote La Force from Alaska last summer.

"After reading those letters," La Force said, "I felt that she was in love with me, perhaps as much as I loved her."

La Force said he was first intimate with Joyce at his home after the Haydens returned from Alaska. His parents were away at the time.

"It was a Friday evening," he testified. "Joyce came over at my invitation. One thing led to another. On how many occasions did Joyce come over to your house?" defense counsel asked.

"About three times, I believe," La Force then was asked if he had been intimate with Mrs. Hayden elsewhere.

"Yes. At her home. I believe it was early in October. Robert was away on a hunting trip."

Mrs. Hayden has testified she was not in love with La Force and never was intimate with him.

It is estimated that the average American ate 17 fewer pounds of red meat in 1951 than he did in 1947.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK 10 Cotton futures registered small gains in slow trading today. There was some switching from old crop July to new crop deliveries. Mill buying was light as cotton goods sales were small.

Late afternoon prices were 5 to 55 cents a bale higher than the previous close. July 33.83, Oct. 33.72 and Dec. 33.70.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK 10 Railroads led a moderate advance today in the Stock Market.

The rails were active and up from small fractions to between 1 and 2 points. Prices throughout the rest of the list usually were up less than a point. Losses were small.

The price increase brought out no particular activity.

Groups Seek to Save State Flood Projects

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Several Arkansas delegations buzzed around the federal government yesterday, and by the end of the day they had asked the federal government to put up more than $2.7 million dollars for river work in and near their state.

A group headed by Reps. Norrell Trimble, Hays and Harris told a House appropriations subcommittee at least $1.8 million would be necessary for bank stabilization on the Arkansas River. That amount was recommended by the subcommittee.

N. E. Jeter of Washington told the subcommittee, "Our citizens need to be using stabilization to protect our lands and property from destruction and to enable our river system to function properly in protecting us from floods."

The delegation appearing before the subcommittee also included Jack N. Rutledge, H. Smith, Ross Caudle, Russellville; D. D. Terry, J. C. Murray and Pulaski County Judge Arch Campbell, all of Little Rock; Kenneth Sanders, Pine Bluff; A. V. Ormond, Morrilton; Walter Estes, Scott; Otha Churchill, Atkins; and Dewey Ray, Newport, Clinton.

Rep. Harris also accompanied a South Arkansas group asking the subcommittee to provide money for lock maintenance which would permit continued navigation on the Ouachita River. No amount was specified for the maintenance, but the delegation also asked for $400,000 to complete channelization of the Little Missouri River below Jeffersonboro.

Mr. Trimble said, "This was part of the Narrows River project and until the work is completed the area will not get the full credit benefit of the Narrows."

The delegation, also including H. K. Thatcher of Camden and Bill McMillan of Arkadelphia, urged the subcommittee to approve $5 million dollars, as recommended by Eisenhower, for the Blakely Mountain Dam.

Earlier in the day, Rep. Trimble and State Sen. Pat Teague and J. E. Harrison, Berryville, Republican leaders, called on President Eisenhower to plead for restoration to the budget of $8.8 million for the Rock Dam on the White River in South Missouri. The sum was proposed by Truman deleted by Eisenhower.

The President told the Arkansas delegation he had ordered a study to determine whether he should recommend funds for the Rock Dam.

Mr. Trimble commented, "It is the most encouraging word we have had yet about the Rock Dam. We think we'll get it."

Residents of Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas asked a House appropriations subcommittee for amounts totaling $7,170,000 for flood control on the Red River and an additional $1 million to start the Perrells

Cruise with Death

SYNOPSIS
Aboard the yacht "Opdyke" riding anchor off Havana, Bahamas, Lord Tintagel, his American wife Virginia, and their ably assisted by a crew of four, wait the arrival of further guests. A housewife, a wealthy eccentric and owner of the luxury yacht, had invited eight people to cruise with him along the fourth American coast. Remaining guests finally board ship. There is a day of sailing, a broker, and his handsome wife, Corliss, Mr. Tintagel, a doctor, a psychiatrist, and a few others. When the yacht is well underway, the passengers meet their captain, Edmund Tintagel, and their steward, Todd. Observing this odd pair, Virginia Tintagel somehow feels that the passengers are presages of the crew.

CHAPTER FOUR
UP IN the salon our host started making up bridge games as if we were refractory stockholders and he was the chairman of the board. He put Robert and the doctor at one table with the Reddings, and then he put his match in Lisa Tremaine. The only announced that she preferred to look, pulled out a little red sweater she was making for a grandson, and proceeded to do just that. Gay Watkinson took advantage of the momentary inattention to murmur something about beauty sleep and leave the room. I did not have sense enough to follow her example.

Mr. Opdyke, as restless as a hornet, zoomed around for a few minutes, and then settled by me. His first question was in the haven you stopped beating your wife class.

"Do you know that you are an extremely beautiful young woman?"

"Thank you," I said.

"Come now, why not be honest? You seem to be very much in love with your husband, too."

"Is that unusual?" I asked.

"Very. My father and mother hated each other."

I let that one go. Maybe that explains you, I thought, but I didn't say anything. He was beginning to make me feel reddened.

"Did you know much about your husband when you married him?"

"No," I said.

"I let that one go. Maybe that explains you, I thought, but I didn't say anything. He was beginning to make me feel reddened."

"I let that one go. Maybe that explains you, I thought, but I didn't say anything. He was beginning to make me feel reddened."

"Enough," I said.

"I wonder if you are really as devoted as you think. I wonder how you'd stand up to a test?"

Opdyke continued.

"Let the girl alone," she said with the most implacable courtesy.

"Clinger, my dear, I'm afraid I've father let you in for something. I did not realize we were sailing with Peck's Bad Day."

Mr. Opdyke gave her a dirty look, but he drifted off just the same. He went over to the writing table and scratched off a note, saying to Todd, and told him to take it to Lisa Tremaine.

"Tell her I'll see her later," he ordered, and it sounded like a threat. Then he went to hang over the bridge table. By this time I think we were all about ready to scream.

Robert was dealing.

"I've made a special effort to sign on a Haitian crew this voyage, Lord Tintagel. And to include a trip to Haiti. It will interest you."

"I was there in 1939," said Robert, laying out the cards with unnecessary snap and vigor.

"I know that," Mr. Opdyke told him smoothly. "I make it my business to know everything."

Dr. Randolph looked up and there was a gleam in his eyes, understanding which I could not quite understand. "You are getting out of hand, darling," he said. "Why don't you relax?"

Opdyke whistled. "You mean I have the upper hand, and you don't like that, eh, Randy? Lord Tintagel knows very well what I am getting at."

Robert gracefully collected his cards and fanned them out. His beautiful hands were one of the first things I liked about him.

"The Hellfire Club had more distinction in my ancestor's day," he said sweetly. "It is overcrowded now. Two spouses," he added with finality.

Frederick Brown, who had been acting more and more like a man, suddenly seemed with a crash, decided at this moment that he had had all he could take. He came swiftly across the room with a sort of granite determination.

"Step outside with me a minute," he said.

"Step outside with me a minute," he said.

"Step outside with me a minute," he said.

"Step outside with me a minute," he said.

Old Quarrel Faces New Military Chief

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The reformed military high command, over giant bombers vs. giant air-craft carriers had put several new faces on an old quarrel between the Navy and Air Force over wartime roles.

Secretary of Defense Wilson let that be known in replying to news conference questions about appointments to the Joint Chiefs of Staff announced yesterday.

But in confirming that the Joint Chiefs, with Adm. Arthur W. Radford as chairman, will re-examine the assignments for the services for the first time since they were agreed to in 1949, Wilson hastened to add:

"We'll all work at it. We're not trying to put anybody on the spot."

Some Object to Joining Bar

LITTLE ROCK, May 13.—A resolution seeking to have the Supreme Court resolicit votes on integration of Arkansas lawyers into one group will be presented to the Bar Association of Arkansas when it meets in Hot Springs tomorrow.

A Little Rock attorney, Kenneth Coffelt, said he will present the resolution because he feels that in the first voting solicited by the Supreme Court, enough Arkansas lawyers didn't express their feelings.

"I believe if every lawyer in the state will vote on this matter — and I am sure they will now if given another opportunity — that the vote will be 2 to 1 against integration of the bar," Coffelt said.

The Supreme Court last month handed down an order which would force all practicing Arkansas lawyers to join one state bar association.

Vermont Picks Family to Visit State

MIDLETON SPRINGS, Vt., May 13.—Things are all a-bustle at a little farm near here where a dairy farmer, his school-teacher wife and their 10-year-old daughter are getting ready to tour Arkansas for free.

The state of Arkansas is sponsoring the 2-week trip.

Lester Parker and his family were named yesterday as Vermont's goodwill ambassadors to Arkansas. They will leave Burlington Saturday for a long flight—their first—to Little Rock.

The Parkers heard the news that they had been chosen out of 42 families competing for the prize with almost emotionless Mrs. Parker said it was "hard to believe" and daughter Jacqueline was worried about spoiling her perfect school attendance record. The 34-year-old Bridge Dam in Texas. The same group was to appear before a Senate appropriations.

father was noncommittal.

The town's school committee has assured "Jackie" that if she sends a postcard each day she is on the 2-week trip, she will be credited with perfect attendance.

The Parkers have been married since 1941 and haven't had time to make long trips, what with his tending a 40-head dairy herd and 10-year-old Mary teaching school.

When he is not taking care of the farm, Parker spends his time conducting a square dance band, calling square dances and playing his fiddle.

Arkansas is giving the free trip because not a single Vermont tourist visited Arkansas last year.

Gov. Cherry asked Gov. Leo Emerson to select a family to make the expense free trip. Arkansas, resources and Development Commission will pick up the check. Emerson chose the Parkers from a letter-writing contest in which 42 families participated.

State to Ask More Mexican Farm Labor

By HAROLD HART

LITTLE ROCK, May 13.—Unless these deluging rains change things, at least two East Arkansas counties plan to double their import of Mexican labor.

At this time of the year, the "wetbacks" — so called because they swim or wade across the Rio Grande River into the United States — give the government a fit.

Planters in Craighead and Pottsville Counties plan to bring in nearly 5,000 Mexican laborers to reap a record-breaking cotton crop. But that is a legal operation based on terms of a U.S.-Mexico labor contract and the government doesn't frown on it.

It is those that come into the country illegally, however, which perplex authorities. The influx is greatest in Southern California and Western Arizona, rich fruit and grain areas. A reported 3,600 were sent back to Mexico last month from these two sections.

Arkansas planters seem to be plagued yearly with a labor shortage and the Mexicans appear to be about the only answer. The government has encouraged expansion of the program in which farmers bring in the Mexican nationals legitimately and pay them prevailing wages.

The changing ways of the American housewife have forced a re-vamping of hog raising. Modern cooking fats are preferred by women and consequently lard has fallen into disuse. That means farmers now must raise hogs that lean more toward meat content than hard to meet demand for pork products.

The average hog raiser has been looking with a wary eye at the Department of Agriculture's new system of grading hogs. They aren't sure what it holds for them. The new grades are Choice No. 1, Choice No. 2, Choice No. 3, Medium and Cull. They are aimed at gagging true hog value.

Howard G. Ford, swine and meats specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service, says there is no cause for alarm, but he does advise hog feeders to study the situation.

Ford sees no need of changing breeds. He figures that use of the new grades should result in better distribution of money paid for hogs. That is, more money would go to the producer of properly finished hogs and less to the raiser of over-fat hogs.

It is estimated there are 329,582, 600 cubic miles of water in the oceans of the world says the National Geographic Society.
